

TRACK & TRACE

LOSCAM, ASCAP and Thinxtra partner to connect the supply chain

Loscam was invited by the supplier of Track and Trace - Thinxtra to participate in the Australia's leading logistics and supply chain magazine - MHD to talk about the project with the first Track and Trace Solution's client, Active Supply Chains Asia Pacific (ASCAP).

This project involves the Australian East Coast transport operation for one of the world's largest automotive manufacturers. ASCAP rents Loscam's Gpak stillages on behalf of this OEM in order to move its spare parts and accessories across the network of dealerships in Australia.

The project is a success, all parties are very pleased with the results. After Loscam fitted the assets with Thinxtra's IoT track and trace solution, the leading automotive provider is now able to gain a significant cost saving through ASCAP being able to reduce the amount of assets on hire in the network.

Daniel, EVP of Australia and New Zealand of Loscam says, "this is just the beginning of the journey, the early statistics around cost-saving and limiting losses are impressive, it's about more than just the tracking. This is really powerful data that can help shape business processes, reduce bottlenecks, manage delivery times, assess risk, compliance, the opportunities are endless."

Loscam has well and truly met its initial purpose of reducing loss across its high value assets, and it is excited to see IoT solutions being used across more assets in Loscam's fleet. From 2021, Loscam's entire IBC fleet will be fitted with trackers that will be connected to Thinxtra's OG Network.

"Loscam has been trading for nearly 80 years and this will clearly be one of the most exciting projects undertaken in our time. It takes our business to the next level and we are excited to be working with our strong and capable technology partner Thinxtra," Daniel says.
